SOCIAL BIOLOGY

Volume 34, 1987

ACCIDENTAL DEATH: as leading cause of death among American Indians, 31–32
Adamchak, Donald J., 47–67
Adebayo, Akinwumi, 57–67
Adolescents: low birthweight of and academic and psychosocial characteristics, 94–109
Age-cause proxy relationship: in infant mortality, 249–253
AIDS: in U.S., 1981–86, 240–241; in Africa and Brazil, 241
Allen, Gordon, 166–179
American Indians: mortality of, 26–36
Andhra Pradesh: effects of consanguineous marriages on fertility in, 68–77
Anglin, M. Douglas, 37–46
Asians. See Hmong, Southeast Asians.
Assortative mating, 114–118
Atmospheric twilight: and color vision deficiencies, 1–11

BAKER, ROBERT L., 94–109
Bangladesh: first ovulatory cycle in girls in, 254
Basu, Alaka M., 187–205
Basumallik, Tapan, 206–219
Behavior genetics, 257–261
Bennett, Kenneth A., 130–132
Births: seasonality of, 244–248
Birthweight. See Low birthweight.
Blacks: contraceptive practices and fertility among in Minneapolis maternal infant care program, 47–56; and farm background, socioeconomic status, and fertility, 224; and seasonality of births, 247
Bogue, Donald J.: bk. rev., 132–133
Breast feeding: and social variables and infant mortality in Malaysia, 78–93

CARDIOVASCULAR MORTALITY: U.S. sex differentials in, 153–165; U.S. age-adjusted death rates for, 236
Carlson, Gertrude, 47–56
Causes of death: of American Indians, 26–36; in different stages of epidemiologic transition theory, 234; in the United States, 237, 238
Census: seasonality of births in, 244–248
Chakraborty, Maya, 206–219
Child mortality: sex differentials in Korea in, 12–25; household influences on and historical declines in, 187–205; in neonatal and postneonatal period, 249–252
Children: mortality of, 12–25, 187–205, 249–252; mental retardation among in India, 206–233
Choe, Minja Kim, 12–25
Chowdhury, Aladdin, 254–255
Chowdhury, Sipra, 206–219
Clifford, William B., 153–165
Color vision deficiencies: and atmospheric twilight, 1–11
Consanguineous marriages: effects of on fertility among three groups in Andhra Pradesh, 68–77; among Mennonites in Mexico, 166–179; among Mennonites in Kansas, 180–186
Contraceptive practices: and fertility among Southeast Asian, black, and white mothers in a Minneapolis maternal infant care program, 47–56
Crime and Human Nature, 256–265
Criminal behavior: and genetics, 256–265

DEATH: factors influencing decisions to terminate life, 37–46
Death rates: of American Indians, 26–36; for cardiovascular disease, 153–165; historical declines in, 187–205; for leading causes of death in U.S., 237. See also Mortality.
Demography of Racial and Ethnic Minorities in the United States: An Annotated Bibliography with Review Essay, 267–270
Denmark: academic and psychosocial characteristics of low-birthweight adolescents in, 94–109
Developed countries: childhood mortality trends in, 187–205; mental health problems among children in, 206
Developing countries: childhood mortality trends in, 187–205; mental health problems among children in, 206
Disease patterns: in epidemiologic transition theory, 234
Dronamraju, Krishna R., 119–121

ENDOGAMY: in three groups in Andhra Pradesh, 68–77; among Mennonites in Mexico, 166–179; among Mennonites in Kansas, 180–186
Endogenous causes of death, 249–252
England: death rates by marital status in, 138, 139, 150; historical mortality declines in, 189, 190, 193
Enlinger, Edward, 47–56
Epidemiologic transition theory: a new state in, 234–243
Epstein, Elizabeth E., 116–118
